Managed Services for Third-Party Risk Assessments

In a growing, dynamic digital environment, it can be difficult to understand the level of risk your third-party vendors pose to your business. Assessing their risk with confidence is not only a tiring process but also difficult to fully understand given the subjective nature of assessment questionnaires.

To help your organization execute third-party risk assessments more efficiently and accurately, Bitsight Advisors offers expert managed services to:

Perform Assessments

Assess information security and cybersecurity risk for new and existing third-parties.

Surface Actionable Insights

Identify control gaps through review of third-party input and validation against Bitsight Data.

Manage Remediation

Recommend remediation actions for identified control gaps.

Bitsight managed services provide resources to navigate the complexities, changes, and challenges of managing third-party risk. Get the support you need to help scale and manage your growing third-party ecosystem while meeting regulatory requirements, with a best-in-class TPRM program that delivers real business value.
